FIFTEEN CENTS

Annual County Fair Only 2 Weeks Away

IT WAS A DAY of ease and leisure, and this little fellow was as comfortable as anyone. Thousands of persons enjoyed last Saturday's Arts, Crafts and Antiques Fair, sponsored by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce & Industry. Clear skies and the large crowd helped make the second annual event a success.

Strike Ends At Quaker

Workers at Quaker Industries, 90 McMillen Rd. in Antioch, voted Sunday to accept a compromise offer of a 25-cent an hour across the board increase in their contract's cost-of-living clause.

The 300 union members began returning to work at 7 a.m. Monday. The plant, which manufactures television tray tables and decorative shelving, has been on strike since June 20.

Approximately 150 members of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Local 714, voted by secret ballot to accept the increase by a margin of two-to-one, according to John Sturrock, union president.

The compromise was negotiated by union and company officials at a meeting Friday attended by federal mediator

The Lake County Fair is shaping up for fun and excitement for all, opening Wednesday, July 24, and continuing through Sunday, the 28th. The Fair Association has invited one and all to this annual event, beginning with the 4-H activities of July 24 and followed by displays and events in many areas.

The Lake County Fairgrounds are located east of Grayslake with entrances on Rt. 120, Rt. 45 and Center St.

Commercial and industrial buildings will be open from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. The mid-way is open at 12 noon each day until late at night. Free parking, free bleachers and the right to visit all fairground buildings are included in the admission fee.

A first for the fair this year is a parade starting at noon on Wednesday the 24th: two and one-half miles of floats, bands and other groups, led by Miss Lake County Fair Queen.

The Association is sponsoring as part of the main entertainment a Competition Rodeo on Friday and Saturday nights. Special entertainment activities are planned, including an action show of thrills and spills.

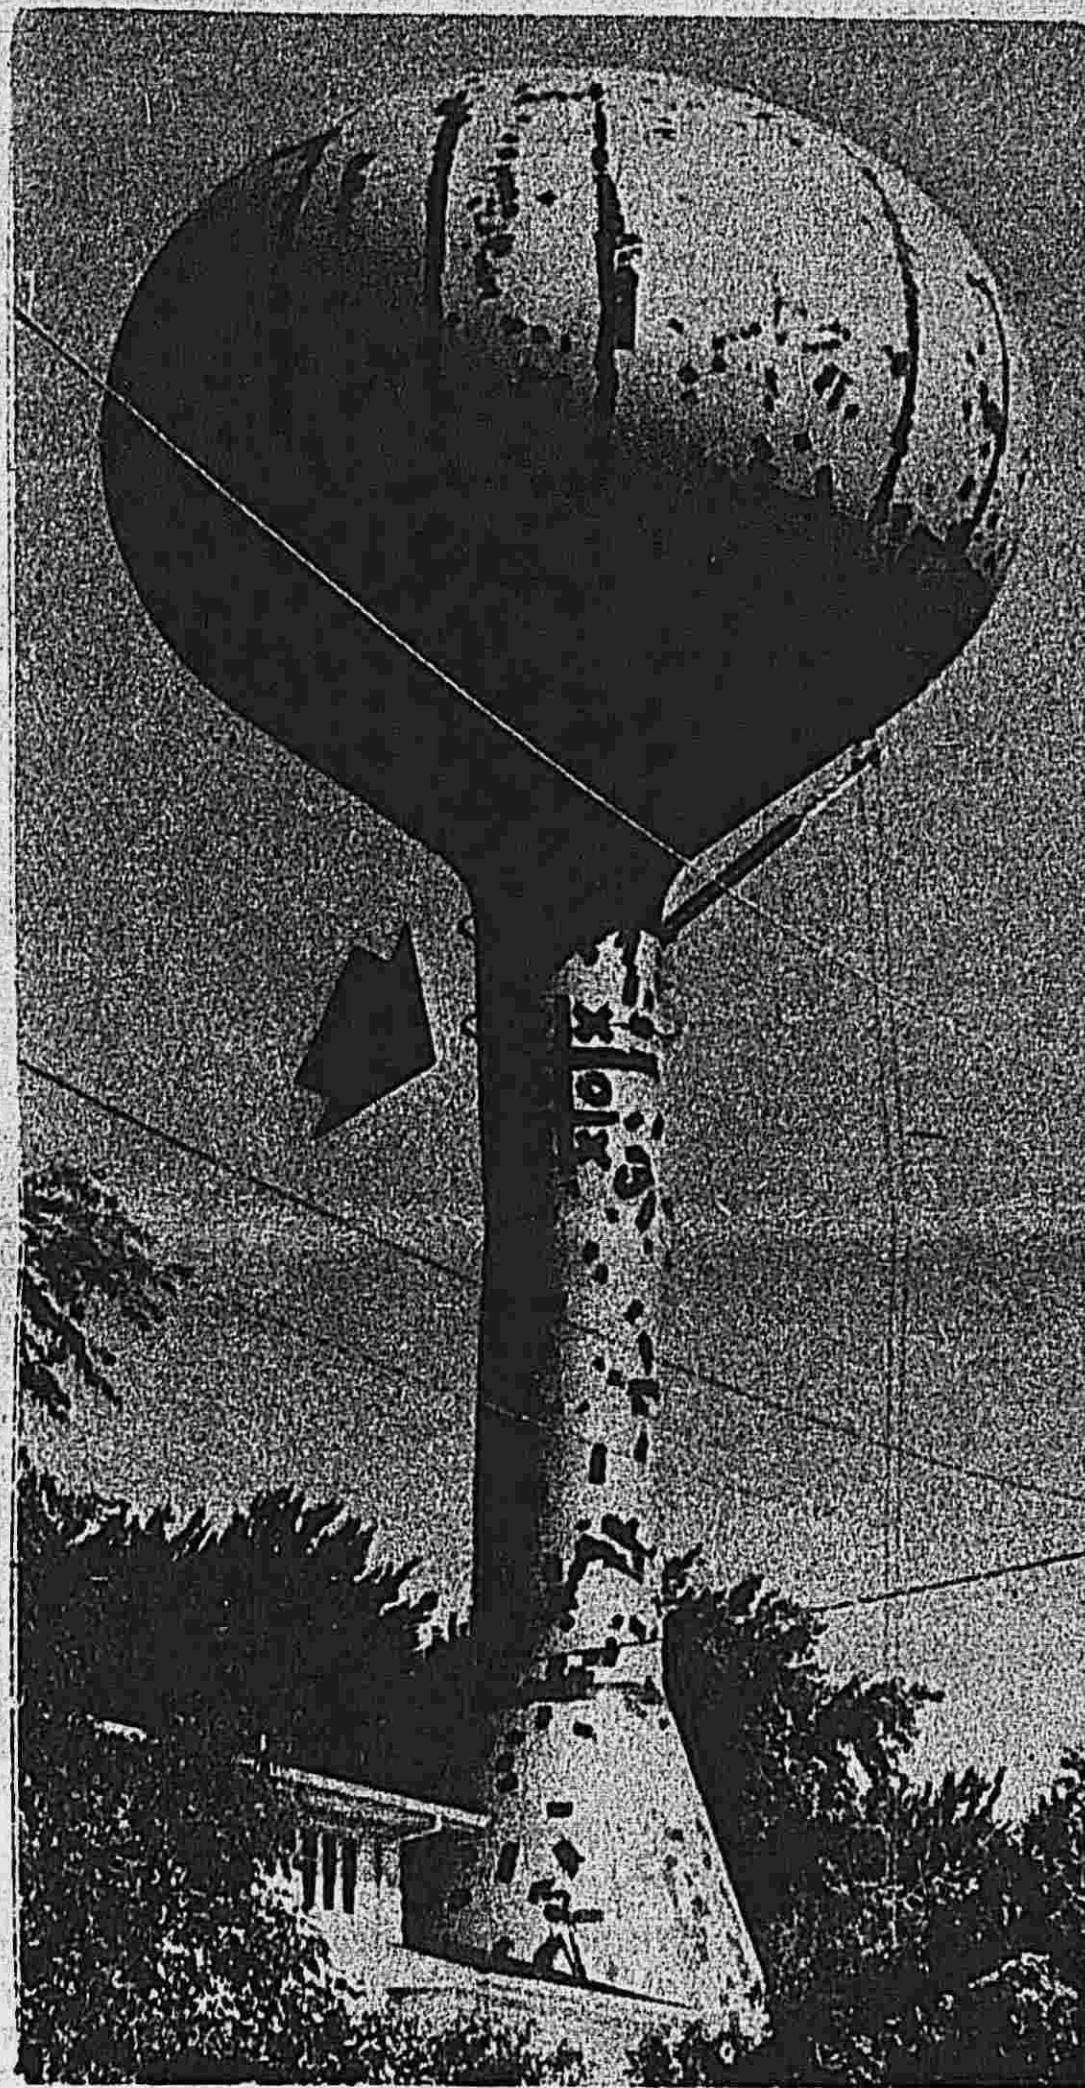

Sunday evening, the 28th, the second annual demolition derby will be held, featuring many of the county's favorite drivers. The fair is also sponsoring five horse shows and one American Shetland pony show.

Saturday, the 27th, at 9 p.m. is the start of the Registered Quarter horse show, followed by the Appaloosa horse show on Sunday.

Beef cattle, dairy cattle, swine and sheep are featured exhibits throughout the week. As a special attraction this year, the fair will be host to the National Dairy Goat Association show, with up to 800 goats on display from across the county.

John Sentowski, IBB representatives were Elsie, Hoekstra, John Rock and Sturrock. Representing the company were Gil Petzke, president of production; Grant Spong, president of industrial relations; and Elvin Kovar, a labor attorney.

Sturrock said, "Believe me, this strike was not pleasant for anyone and in the future I am more than willing to do anything so that we will not have another one."

RTA Bill Goes To Governor

SPRINGFIELD - A bill designed to strengthen public support for the Chicago Area Regional Transportation Authority (RTA), and make it more acceptable to the people of the five suburban counties surrounding Cook, has won approval in the Illinois legislature.

The Senate bill, sponsored by State Senator John Nimrod (R-Skokie), has significantly amended in the House but with the intent to make it acceptable to both legislative chambers. The final House vote was an overwhelming 147 to 4. The Senate passed it with 77 votes.

The bill now goes to Gov. Dan Walker for his consideration.

The governor has taken no action on any of the four RTA bills on his desk. He has said that he would approve nothing that might jeopardize RTA operations.

"This bill," Rep. Adeline J. Geo-Karis of Zion said, "would not only make the RTA more acceptable to the people of Lake and the other suburban counties, but would also make the RTA a more responsible and accountable agency."

This is what the bill would provide: 100 percent of all taxes the RTA levies would have to be returned for use in the county from which they were collected

Boy, 4, Drowns at Area Lake

A 4-year-old North Chicago boy drowned in Petite Lake Saturday, the Lake County Sheriff's office reported. He was identified as Joseph E. Martinez of 1721 1/2 Lincoln St.

Joseph, the county's 21st drowning victim this year, drowned in three feet of water while playing on a balloon raft near Joel's Resort, Herman Ave. and Grass Lake Rd.

The sheriff's office said the boy was in the water for about five minutes when his body was recovered by Harvey C. Gehrls of North Chicago. The boy's mother, Mrs. Alma Martinez, also was on the beach when the accident occurred. The Antioch Rescue Squad attempted to revive the boy.

Leaving the carnival, they walked to the parking lot and sniffed the glue for about 15 minutes before police arrived.

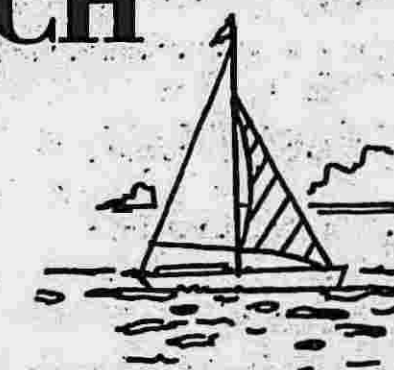

The 18-year-old was transported to Lake County jail, where it was found he had a small amount of marijuana in his possession.

Suburban RTA Bill

for the direct benefit of the residents of that county;
-No transportation agency in the six county area would be eligible for a grant from the RTA before July 1, 1975, unless it agreed that it would not increase fares or decrease service between June 30, 1974, and July 1, 1975, without RTA approval except for seasonal changes;

-Condemnation proceedings must be in the circuit court of the county where property to be taken over by the RTA is located. The taking of public park, state forest or forest preserve land must have the approval of two-thirds of the RTA board, a written report must be filed, public hearings must be held, and the action must be court approved;

-A 26 member Metropolitan Area Transportation Council would be created to meet with the RTA Board every six months at a minimum. The mayor of Chicago would appoint 13 members to the council, the president of the Board of Commissioners of Cook County 8 members from outside Chicago, and the chairman of each collar county board one member.

-No parking tax could be levied for parking on public streets or in lots where there are spaces for two or less vehicles, unless they are spaces at which motor vehicles are permitted to park in return for an hourly, daily, or other periodic fee.

-RTA bonds would have to be sold publicly to the highest bidder;

-Local units of government and transportation agencies could receive federal or state grants without RTA approval; and

-The time period in which an individual may sue the RTA for the wrongful death or injury of an individual would be extended from one to two years.

"WE HAD TRIED to have the RTA board enlarged to 21 members," Rep. Geo-Karis said, "to give each suburban county full representation on the board. However, in order to get the changes we did, it was necessary for us to drop that effort.

"When the original RTA package was approved by the General Assembly last year," Rep. Geo-Karis said, "we were assured that it could be later amended to provide for the needs and desires of the people of Lake and the other four suburban counties, and that is exactly what this bill with its House amendments does.

"Instead of being crippled by this bill as some individuals have charged," she said, "the RTA is made more palatable to the people of the suburban counties, and has a much better chance of becoming the effective efficient public transportation agency that the six-county Chicago Metropolitan area needs so desperately."

"With this bill," Rep. Geo-Karis said, "the people of Lake County, and all the counties served by the RTA, will have more assurance of getting a dollar's worth of public transportation for every dollar they spend."

Your Police and the Community

By SUE SEDIVEC

The most interesting aspect of human nature is that people are basically unpredictable. In an age of Watergate, impeachment talk and strikes, it's refreshing to see that there are honest people surviving in this world and in our community.

Recently, Officer Gerald Hannum of the Antioch Police Dept. followed through with an investigation that recovered $500 of merchandise that was stolen from The Four Squires and that led to the arrest of a 17-year-old for theft over $150.

The youth received a sentence of two years supervised probation and had to pay restitution.

Officer Hannum must be commended for thorough and persistent investigative work, but also reports that three youths of our community were the catalysts in the investigation.

These young people noticed some clothing in the garbage can behind the store and alerted the Police Department immediately of their discovery.

Mr. Jack Siegmeyer, manager of The Four Squires, highly commended Officer Hannum for his prompt, continued investigation and also felt that the three youths, who initiated the action should be rewarded. In this respect, each of the three youths was given a $25 gift certificate.

It's reassuring to know that Officer Hannum, as a law enforcement officer with The Antioch Police Dept., protects the rights of the victim so often ignored.

2 Businessmen Oppose Art Fair

I am not a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Art Fair is one of the reasons.

It would seem the Chamber has made a concerted effort to take dollars out of Antioch. Predictions were for 3000 people to attend the Fair. If each person who attends spends $10.00 that's $30,000 which is taken out of our community to be spent in other towns within a 100-mile radius. It also represents a loss in municipal tax revenues to the Village which we merchants who do not have a "business on wheels" must collect and pay to the city.

Proponents of the Art Fair say that people will find out what businesses and services are offered in Antioch because of the Art Fair. I say bullfeathers! How could anyone see a business even exists behind the placards, signs and display boards which were placed in front of most everyone's front windows.

A fee of $7.00 was charged each exhibitor for the Art Fair.

This fee permitted him to display his wares on the sidewalks in the Village of Antioch. A question arises in my mind of who gave them the release to use private property. I know I signed no such paper. Secondly, where do the limits of liability lay? If someone is injured in front of my store who is sued, the "fly by night merchant" or me who has a $500 insurance premium every six months. Third, did the $7.00 include a clean up fee? I spent 1/2 hour picking up someone's gum, gum wrappers, coke cans, cigarette butts, etc.

Perhaps in the eyes of the Chamber the Art Fair was a success. In my opinion and the opinion of several other merchants I have talked to the Art Fair was an abysmal failure for the merchants the Chamber exists to serve.

YOUR GARDEN

Many homeowners are spending too much of their long green trying to get greenery of a different sort on their lawns. Many of these people might be able to grow more for less!

You may not need all that fertilizer, for instance. Too much is actually worse than too little. It can dehydrate your grass roots and burn out your lawn. A good rule of green thumbs is to use enough fertilizer to provide two pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet, but your best bet is to follow the directions on the fertilizer package. Don't toss out fertilizer on fescue or bluegrass in midsummer or they will brown out.

Too much lime on your lawn is worse than none at all. You may have limey soil already, so be sure to have your soil analyzed before you use any additives.

Don't over water. Too much moisture will wash the nutrients right out of the soil, and help to spread fungus. Let your turf dry almost to the wilting point between waterings - you can tell it's time when you can leave footprints on the grass - then water to a depth of at least six inches.

For a healthier lawn, keep the grass at an inch and a half to two inches high (unless it's bentgrass which should be shorter) and pick up the clippings.

Vocational Center Architects Named

The Associated architectural firms of Hellmuth, Obata & Kassabaum, Belleville, Illinois and Joseph Legat, Waukegan have been designated by the Illinois Capital Development Board for the Lake County Area Vocational Center facility.

According to Merv Pilotte, Planning Director for the proposed vocational center, the project has probably been delayed one year because of the problems with the Capital Development Board relative to the naming of the architect. The original timetable, according to Pilotte, called for the center to open in September of 1976. However, it appears now that the opening date will be closer to September of 1977.

The $8,500,000 facility will be built in the vicinity of the College of Lake County near Grayslake. Negotiations are presently underway to acquire land near the college.

It is anticipated construction will begin in the Spring of 1975.

3-17-29, Where Are You?

By: EVALYN ROZEK

I went to the beach the other day. At least a dozen people came up to me and asked why I have the numbers 3-17-29 tattooed on the bottom of my left foot.

"My Mother was frightened by a license plate while she was carrying me," I found myself answering time and again. Which, of course, is an out-and-out lie.

Here's what really happened.

A few Saturdays ago, I asked my husband for a dollar so I could go to the library to pay my fine.

He handed me a twenty.

"But I'm going to ride my bike," I argued. "I don't need all that money."

"Take it," he insisted. "You never know when something might go wrong."

He sure was right about that.

I arrived at the library as the court house clock struck 9 a.m. I chained my bike to a post and bounded up the steps, three at a time.

I paid my little fee. I found a novel I had been meaning to read. I went to the children's department and picked out two records. (The Little White Duck Comes Back and Beethoven for Beginners.)

At 9:30 I left the library. I was in such high spirits that I had to check an impulse to slide down the bannister.

Then I tried to unlock my bike.

"7-13-29," I whispered. "Away we go!"

Nothing happened.

"Silly girl," I chuckled. "It's 9-17-23."

But it wasn't 9-17-23.

Nor was it 19-31-27. Or 17-9-23. Or a lot of other numbers, either.

"This is ridiculous," I muttered. "You knew it half an hour ago."

By 10 a.m. a familiar, throbbing pain was stretching its way across my forehead. Beads of perspiration stood out on my brow. My back ached. My neck ached. My brain ached.

But I couldn't remember the combination.

By 11 a.m. a small crowd had gathered. Many of them were clapping their hands and chanting, "GO! GO! GO!"

Believe me, I was trying to.

"Hey, lady," somebody shouted. "Your record albums are melting!"

Sure enough, I had set them in the sun. The Little White Duck was a goner, and Beethoven was rippling where he had never rippled before.

I went back into the library (one step at a time) and emerged $10.86 for the worse.

The clock was striking twelve. In the distance, church bells chimed, "What A Friend I Have In Jesus."

I gnashed my teeth and cursed.

The mob had grown quieter. There were wires and cameras around the area now, and a man was speaking in hushed tones into a microphone.

I pretended they didn't exist.

At 12:30 I sent out for a pizza. With double mushrooms on. It cost $4.75 and I didn't share it with anyone.

Around 2 p.m., I noticed that the crowd had lost interest and had drifted off. I decided to swallow my pride and call home. The combination was on a slip of paper in one of my dresser drawers.

I must've let the phone ring twenty times before I remembered that the children have swimming lessons on Saturday afternoons.

What could I do? What would YOU do if YOU were stranded downtown with a couple of dollars in your pocket? With three pounds of ocean perch thawing on your kitchen cupboard? And the knowledge that your deodorant was letting you down?

"I'll have a martini," I said to the bartender in the first cocktail lounge I could find. "And never mind the ice."

Shadows were lengthening as I finally sloshed back to my bicycle. With a confidence born of idiocy, I dialed the combination.

Three...seventeenish...twenty-nine. (More or less.)

The lock fell open.

Gleefully, I rode off into the sunset. I could hardly wait to see my husband and children. How glad they would be to see me!

The children were asleep. My husband was in the driveway. Pacing.

I told him the story. He stared at me in disbelief.

You're the only woman in the world who could leave the house with twenty dollars and come home with a bar bill!" he ranted.

I just didn't have the heart to show him the one from the tattoo artist.

THE FAMILY PORTRAIT

Since many children go away to school and the family may not be together again until the year-end holidays, this is an ideal time to plan family activities as a group - a time to get back-to-school wardrobes together and to have a contemporary, natural portrait taken of the family by a professional photographer. A color photographic portrait has marvelous gift-giving and home-decorating possibilities.

A family portrait takes only an afternoon. The best way to go about it is to call B-J Rush Studio at 395-5554, decide on an afternoon and make plans together.

You will want to decide whether the portrait should be indoors or out. Many suburban families prefer to have an environmental portrait photograph done on their property or in an attractive near-by location. For instance, your family can be photographed as a group on the tennis court, ice-skating in an indoor rink or at a focal park. Any of these create an appealing setting for an action portrait.

B-J Rush Studios can advise you about appropriate framing. A portrait photograph of your family can be used also as a warm personal Christmas card, or for birthday or anniversary gifts for family members.

For a special surprise when the portrait prints are ordered, give Dad a large family portrait for his office with a tailored leather or suede frame - or save it and let Santa put it under the tree.

before they grow up and grow away from the family group...

When you return from abroad you have to declare all the items purchased or acquired abroad.

If you have not made re-entry and declaration within the preceding 30 days you get a $100 exemption.

Technically, you are to make a verbal declaration if you have not purchased or acquired items in excess of $100. If somebody gives you a present while you are abroad this is an acquisition and must be declared. Fill out the simple declaration form anyway, because it will save lots of time at the customs inspection point and eliminate a lot of questions.

This I have found to be true if you are returning from Europe or the Far East. The stewardess distributes these forms during the return flight so you have lots of time to finish the simple form.

My advice is to declare every purchase and acquisition that accompanies you in writing and show the amount you paid. Carry receipts on your person in case the inspector wants to see them. Try to have all your acquisitions in one place rather than scattered through several pieces of luggage.

Should the declaration exceed $100, the inspector will automatically apply your exemption to articles with the highest rate of duty and charge you for the lowest rated items. These fellows will try to charge you the least possible amount IF you are honest and cooperative. BUT, if you conveniently fail to declare something and he discovers it, be prepared for a time-consuming search and the application of the highest rates, perhaps even penalty rates.

For returning families; the head of the family can make a single declaration including household members who accompany him) thus the $100 exemptions are also pooled, as are the family purchases and acquisitions.

Next week I will cover items sent home and also individuals who have foreign made articles and are once again taking them along.

Chicago (NFS) - There may be something positive in the energy crisis after all, reports Sally Ames, sleep consultant to the Spring Air Mattress Company, Chicago.

According to an editorial in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, she says it's more healthful to keep your room temperature at 69 degrees rather than the typical 75 degrees to which most Americans have become accustomed.

THINGS YOU MAY NOT KNOW ABOUT CONSERVING ELECTRICITY

How an attic fan can take some of the load off your air conditioning.

If you've ever been up in your attic on a summer day, you know how hot it gets. All that heat up there is what makes it so tough to cool the downstairs—even with air conditioning.

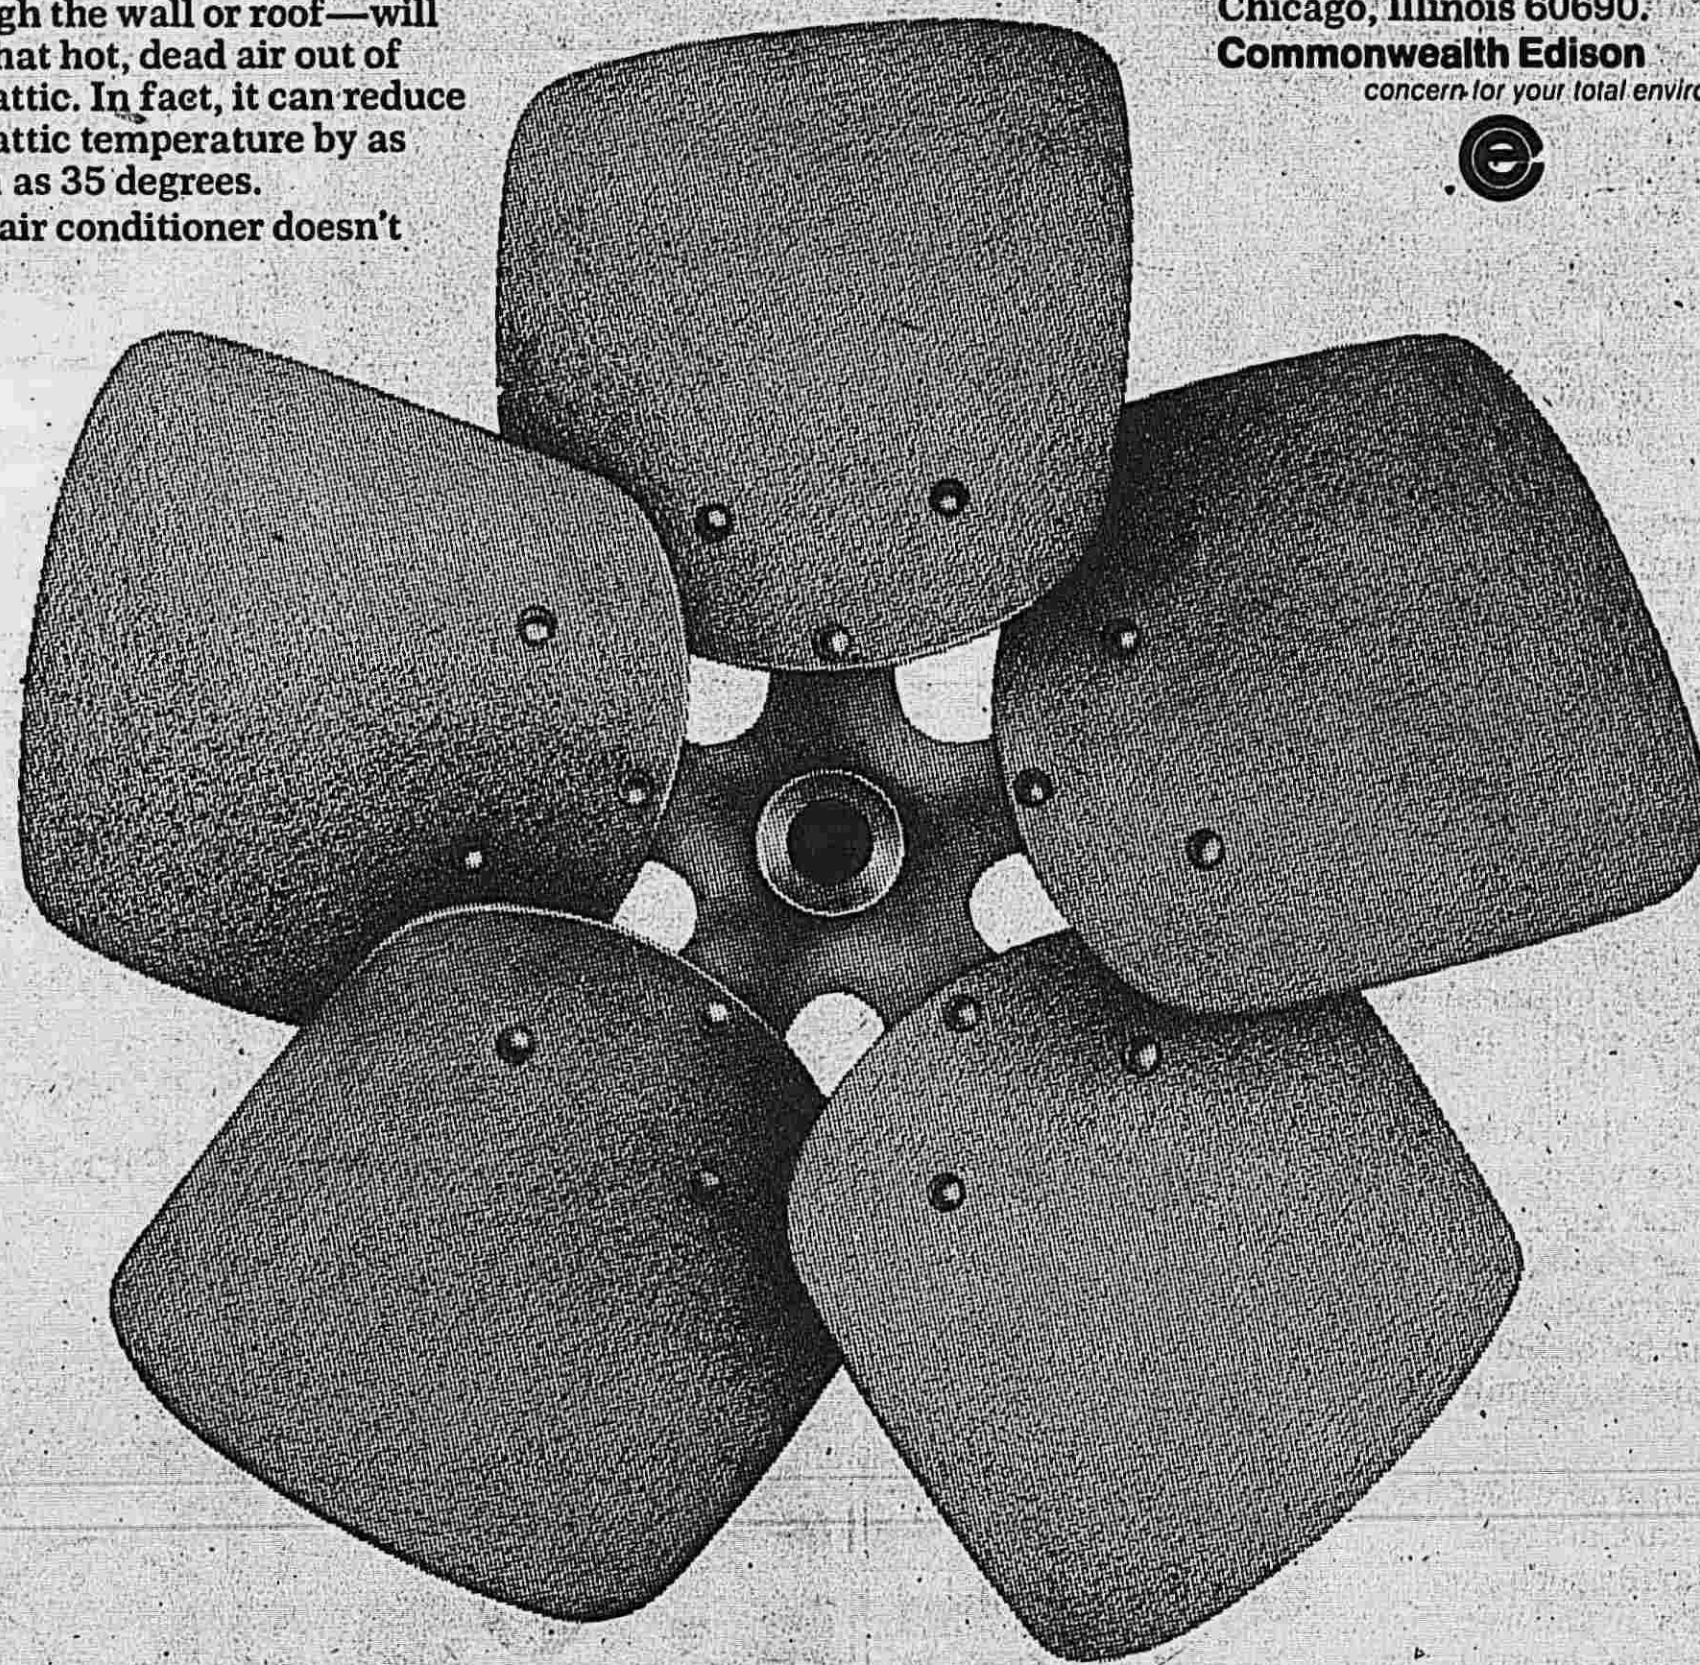

Well, here's a hint: install an attic fan. An attic fan—whether it's at a window, gable vent or through the wall or roof—will pull that hot, dead air out of your attic. In fact, it can reduce your attic temperature by as much as 35 degrees.

Your air conditioner doesn't have to work nearly as hard when it isn't fighting a hot attic. It doesn't switch on as often or run as long. You're just as comfortable, yet you're saving money. With an attic fan, you can also reduce the amount of air conditioning equipment you need.

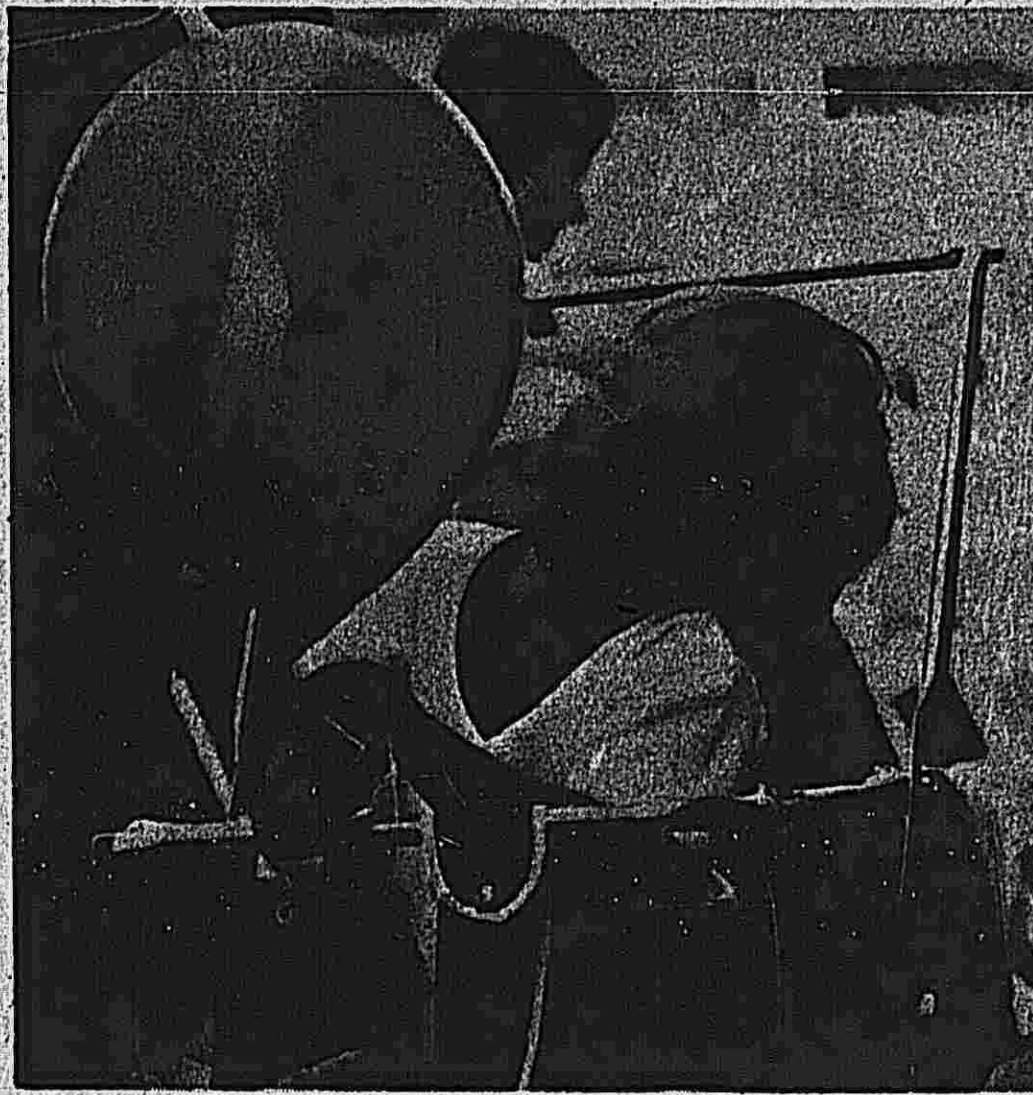

Contact your heating or air conditioning contractor for the attic fan installation that's best for your home. This hint is included in our booklet "101 Ways to Conserve Electricity at Home." For your free copy, write Commonwealth Edison, Department AV, P.O. Box 767, Chicago, Illinois 60690.

Buying an air conditioner? Select a unit with a high energy/efficiency ratio which gives you more cooling for every unit of electricity. Emerson Quiet Kool says "Watt Watcher" units have energy/efficiency ratios as high as 10.0 and reduce power consumption as much as 50 per cent.

Antioch Swimmers Tie With Brentwood

The Antioch Swim Club met Brentwood at the Antioch Aqua Center last week in probably the hardest fought yet friendliest swim meet of the 1974 season. After all the cheering, shouting, and splashing was over, the score was deadlocked at 187 for both teams.

Many of the Antioch and Brentwood swimmers were renewing old friendships because they swim as teammates all winter at the Waukegan YMCA, but swimming against old teammates did not make the competition any less fierce.

John Schmidt continued his undefeated string with firsts in freestyle and butterfly and by anchoring the winning free relay.

Jean Cilik topped all swimmers with four firsts, winning the 12 and under diving, IM, breaststroke, and butterfly. Sister Mary Ann Cilik came through with firsts in freestyle and backstroke.

Carol Berry took firsts in backstroke and butterfly, while Cindy Carney doubled by winning the back and swimming on the free relay.

Jody and John Bellucci scored firsts in freestyle and breaststroke respectively. Judy Houghton won the 11-12 year old freestyle while Sue Amundsen won the 13-14 yr old freestyle. Phil Jaworek won the backstroke in 13-14; his brother Mike won the 15-16 backstroke.

Jenny Schmidt won the 13-14 breaststroke for the third consecutive meet. Jack Fields and Chuck Auxier were the other two members of the first place free relay.

The next meet for the Antioch swimmers will be July 13 at Old Willow. The next home meet will be Tuesday, July 16, against Lake Forest.

'Dynamite' Wins At Waukegan

WAUKEGAN - "Dynamite" Dave Evans held true to his name Sunday night, winning the 30-lap feature at the Waukegan Speedway in a close decision over Bob Roper.

It was the first feature win for Evans at the Waukegan track since it was paved in 1969...he had several clay track wins here. The win boosted Evans to second behind Roper in the Chicagoland Driving Championship. He had won Saturday at the Illiana Speedway.

Ted Richter scored his second straight Saturday night late-model feature win at Waukegan. He missed breaking the track record by only 0.11 seconds in time trials with a 14.94 lap, the fastest of the year for this class. Richter then forged past Roy Acuff for the win with just four laps remaining in the 25-lap main event.

Northbrook's Tom Jones romped home the winner in the special Carling's Black Label 50-lap late model race last Wednesday before one of the largest crowds of the season.

Promoter Gordon Sill announced that the third demolition derby of the year will be run on Sunday night, July 14, at the Waukegan Speedway in connection with the 9th Annual Ace Antenna Trophy Night.

Action Gets Hot At Wilmot Track

WILMOT, WIS. - Aaron Solsrud roared home first in the 35-lap super modified feature at Kenosha County Speedway July 4th.

The track's largest crowd of the season watched more than 90 cars from four states take part in the competition.

Solsrud took the lead on the seventh lap and finished a car-length in front of Dick St. John of Milwaukee. The race was marred by a third-lap flip that injured Dick Dustin. His car came to rest on its wheels, but Dustin suffered a broken rib that will sideline him for a few weeks.

Joe Gresk won the sportsman 20-lap feature over Gordy Mudlaff.

On Saturday at Wilmot, Larry Ninneman of Milwaukee won his first feature of the season, beating Whitey Harris and Dick St. John. Rookie driver Don Collins of Lake Villa won the sportsman feature.

This Saturday the Speedway will feature a full show and all 1974 graduates will be admitted for $1.

Starting Wednesday, July 17, there will be racing at Wilmot for four weeks, with special fan favorites such as a demo derby and a powder puff race. Time trials begin at 6:45 for all shows.

Boating TIPS

Safety on the water is just as important as safety on land.

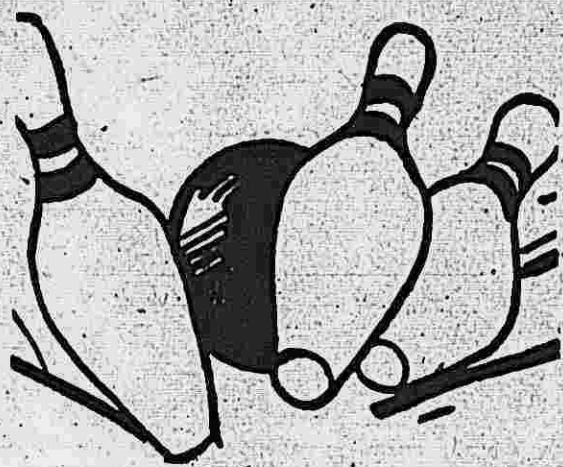

Every time you take your family boating, take a few very important minutes to check these necessary safety precautions.

- Check your fuel supply. If possible, keep a small reserve on board for emergency situations.

- Make sure your lifesaving equipment is in good condition and each person aboard has access to a life jacket.

- Never overload your boat. You may think your boat is big enough for those few extra guests. But it's much wiser to adhere to the number recommended by the capacity designation on your boat.

BOWLING

Antioch Bowl concluded its regular league play recently with a single elimination tournament open only to those bowlers in a league from the Antioch Bowl. Polly Keller was the ladies' champion from a field of 64 bowlers. Winner over 128 entrants in the men's competition was Jim Teeters of Round Lake.

Still being conducted at the alleys is the 29th Annual Singles Tournament, open to all league bowlers from any alley in any state.

Leading the competition is Steve Steubner of Lake Villa and Polly Keller.

The tournament is considered one of the finest in the country, offering a $1,000 prize for men and $300 for women. Entries have been received from bowlers in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Indiana, Missouri, Ohio and as far away as St. Petersburg, Florida.

Reservations can be made by calling Antioch Bowling Lanes, 395-1155.
